

MARK GASPERS

CHAIR, QUALITY WORKFORCE COMMITTEE

REPRESENTING

BUSINESS

COMPANY/ASSOCIATION

THE BOEING COMPANY

POSITION

MANAGER, GOVERNMENT OPERATIONS

OTHER MEMBERSHIPS AND ORGANIZATIONS

- Arizona Manufacturing Council
- Arizona Chamber of Commerce and Industry
- Arizona Aerospace and Defense Commission

Mark Gaspers serves as the Chair of the Quality Workforce Committee. He has worked for The Boeing Company since 2005 and worked in various legislative staff positions with the Senate, House of Representatives, and with the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

Mr. Gaspers currently serves on the Arizona Aerospace and Defense Commission and on the Board of Directors for the Arizona Manufacturing Council. He resides in Tucson with his wife, Dr. Mary Gaspers, and their children.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Mark Gaspers serves as Manager for State and Local Government Operations at The Boeing Company in the southwest. Prior to his current position with Boeing, Mr. Gaspers was a Trade Control Specialist in support of Boeing's Space Exploration division.

Before coming to Boeing, Mr. Gaspers was a policy analyst for defense, homeland security, veterans, and NASA issues for the Senate Republican Policy Committee (RPC) under the chairmanship of Senator Jon Kyl (R-AZ). Mr. Gaspers also served as a senior legislative assistant for Representative Lincoln Diaz-Balart and as Senator Kyl's health care legislative correspondent. He completed the Air Command and Staff College with the Air Force Fellows section while working for Representative Diaz-Balart.

EDUCATION AND AWARDS

Mark received his master's degree in National Security studies from Georgetown University in 2001. While at Georgetown, he served as an associate editor of National Security Studies Quarterly and worked as a research assistant for the Kennedy Institute of Ethics. He holds a bachelor's degree in political science from Loyola Marymount University in Los Angeles.